Essay Winner To Get Horse

The Lake County Cooperative Extension Service, which supervises the 4-H Organization in Lake County, is pleased to announce that a lucky 4-H member will receive a horse as a gift.

The person responsible for this fine opportunity is Jack Taylor, broadcaster for WGN Radio and Television, and a resident of Lake County. Taylor's children have been 4-H members in the past.

The horse being donated is part American Saddlebred and is a filly of about two years of age. It would probably be classified under the "hunter-jumper" style of riding.

Although there is a large enrollment in the Lake County 4-H Horse and Pony Project, any one of the approximately 1600 4-H members in the county may enter the contest.

Good participation is expected since the horse population and the interest in horses in the county ranks among the highest in the nation.

The horse will be given to a 4-H'er through an essay contest. Each participant must write a 750-1,000 word essay on why he or she would like to have a horse. Also the essay must include information on how the 4-H'er would care for and feed the horse.

The contest began in January and the deadline for entering essays is Feb. 15. The County 4-H committee will select the finalists and Taylor will select the winner.

This is merely an example of the many benefits which youngsters from 9-19 years of age receive from 4-H, which includes kids from the city as well as rural and farm children.

But there are many opportunities available in 4-H through the more than 150 projects and activities offered. Youngsters in 4-H also have an opportunity to learn responsibility and mature into young adults through public speaking, junior leadership, and group participation.

And just as the times are constantly changing, 4-H is changing too, continuously adding and modernizing the various projects offered. Join the 4-H generation of today! Call 223-5844.

Water Level Adjustment To Aid Fish, Waterfowl

Water levels will be adjusted this year in the Chain-O-Lakes region to benefit fish and waterfowl in northern Illinois.

William Cellini, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, said the division of waterways will raise water levels in the Fox river and Chain-O-Lakes in mid-March, a month earlier than usual.

Barring an early freeze, he said the division will postpone lowering the water level until early December. This is normally accomplished each year in early November when the McHenry County lock and dam gates are opened and the level is lowered 1.5 to 1.6 feet, Cellini said.

The plan is part of Gov. Richard Ogilvie's program to upgrade conservation and recreational facilities within the state, Cellini said. Cellini said the plan was formulated at a meeting last month of members of the division of waterways and the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Members of the division of waterways contend that raising the water level in the spring will provide a holding basin for spring flood waters and minimize dock damage due to ice formation.

According to representatives from the conservation department, the earlier rise in March will provide more spawning habitat for northern pike. Keeping the water level higher will tend to keep waterfowl in the area longer and protect fish.

These added benefits will not detract from earlier flood control and property damage precautions, Cellini added.

Antioch Realtor Seeks Help On Street Behind His Office

Realtor Albert Schroeder Monday night asked the Village Board to do something about the street that runs behind his office at 917 Main St.

"I wish the village would do some grading and put some gravel on the street," he said. "It is full of ice and snow, and I've already had one accident there."

Schroeder asked for action for gravel and grading, but Village Mayor Ray Toft and Trustee J. Irving Walsh said the village did not have the right to go on private property.

"Give us the easement of all the property owners, and we'll do something about it," said the mayor. "We've been trying for years to get the property owners to agree, but it has not materialized."

The mayor said the village is negotiating for the purchase of a site behind Main Street to be used as a parking lot, but has not been able to come to terms with the owner.

Schroeder said: "Then take out my parking meter, and paint the curb in front of my business red or give me a loading zone."

"It can't be done," said the mayor. Schroeder said drivers of delivery trucks don't want to use the street behind Main Street because its condition damages their cargo.

The village applied gravel to the street Tuesday. Schroeder also asked that sand and salt be applied on Winsor Drive from Main Street since it is coated with ice and is a hazard.

Schroeder was told that Winsor Drive was a private street. It was pointed out that heavy trucks can't drive into the street to apply salt and gravel. Use of a smaller truck was proposed to enter the street to distribute ice thawing chemicals and gravel.

Meeting Set On Lake Street

A meeting has been tentatively arranged with representatives of the Illinois Department of Public Works for Feb. 15 to consider the village's request to take over Lake Street (Rte. 59 to Rte. 173).

Mayor Raymond Toft had suggested that the village look into the possibility of it acquiring the responsibility for the street.

A highway official had suggested some years ago that the village petition the state about taking over the street.

The village wants to take it over to make improvements of the street such as widening it because it rapidly is becoming a busy thoroughfare with new businesses developing on the route.

The meeting with state officials will be at 7 p.m. in the village hall.

$5 Million Apartment Complex Still Alive

A proposed $5 million apartment development program in southeast Antioch has been sent back to the Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals for reconsideration.

The trustees Monday night asked the Zoning Board to take another look at the giant project after they learned of the Zoning Board's recommendation against revising the Zoning Ordinance to permit construction of the 12 apartment buildings with more than 360 units on Rte. 173, just west of Lyons-Ryan Ford Sales.

After the public hearing Jan. 11, the Zoning Board of Appeals voted 5 to 0 to turn down the petition of Homer LaPlant, the seller, and Richey Graham, Jr., the developer, to amend the ordinance and grant them a special use permit from the present manufacturing classification.

The reason behind the Zoning Board's decision was that in amending the ordinance and granting the petition it would greatly limit the available land for industry and that the Planning Commission had concurred in its findings.

The Zoning Board held that the 23 acres was "prime industrial property."

There was no objection voiced against the zoning revision at the public hearing conducted by the Zoning Board of Appeals a week ago.

The developer proposed to use about 11 acres for the apartment complex development, and the unimproved section in the plot to be used for recreation purposes such as a swimming pool, putting green, tennis court, and playground.

Three acres fronting the site would be used for commercial development, it was pointed out. "I believe the trustees acted correctly in asking the Zoning Board to reconsider new information,"

2 Picked For Heart Fund

Appointment of William E. Brook, president of the Antioch State Bank, and Mrs. William C. Petty of Antioch as community co-chairmen of the 1971 Heart Fund Campaign in Antioch Township was announced today by Jerome H. Lorber, Lake County Heart Fund Chairman.

A volunteer group is being recruited to distribute heart-saving literature to their neighbors and receive Heart Fund contributions during the month of February.

Among the new chairman's duties will be that of recruiting a group of captains to coordinate activities of the volunteers.

Proceeds of the drive support research, education and community service activities of the Lake County Heart Association, the only voluntary health agency here devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart-circulatory system.

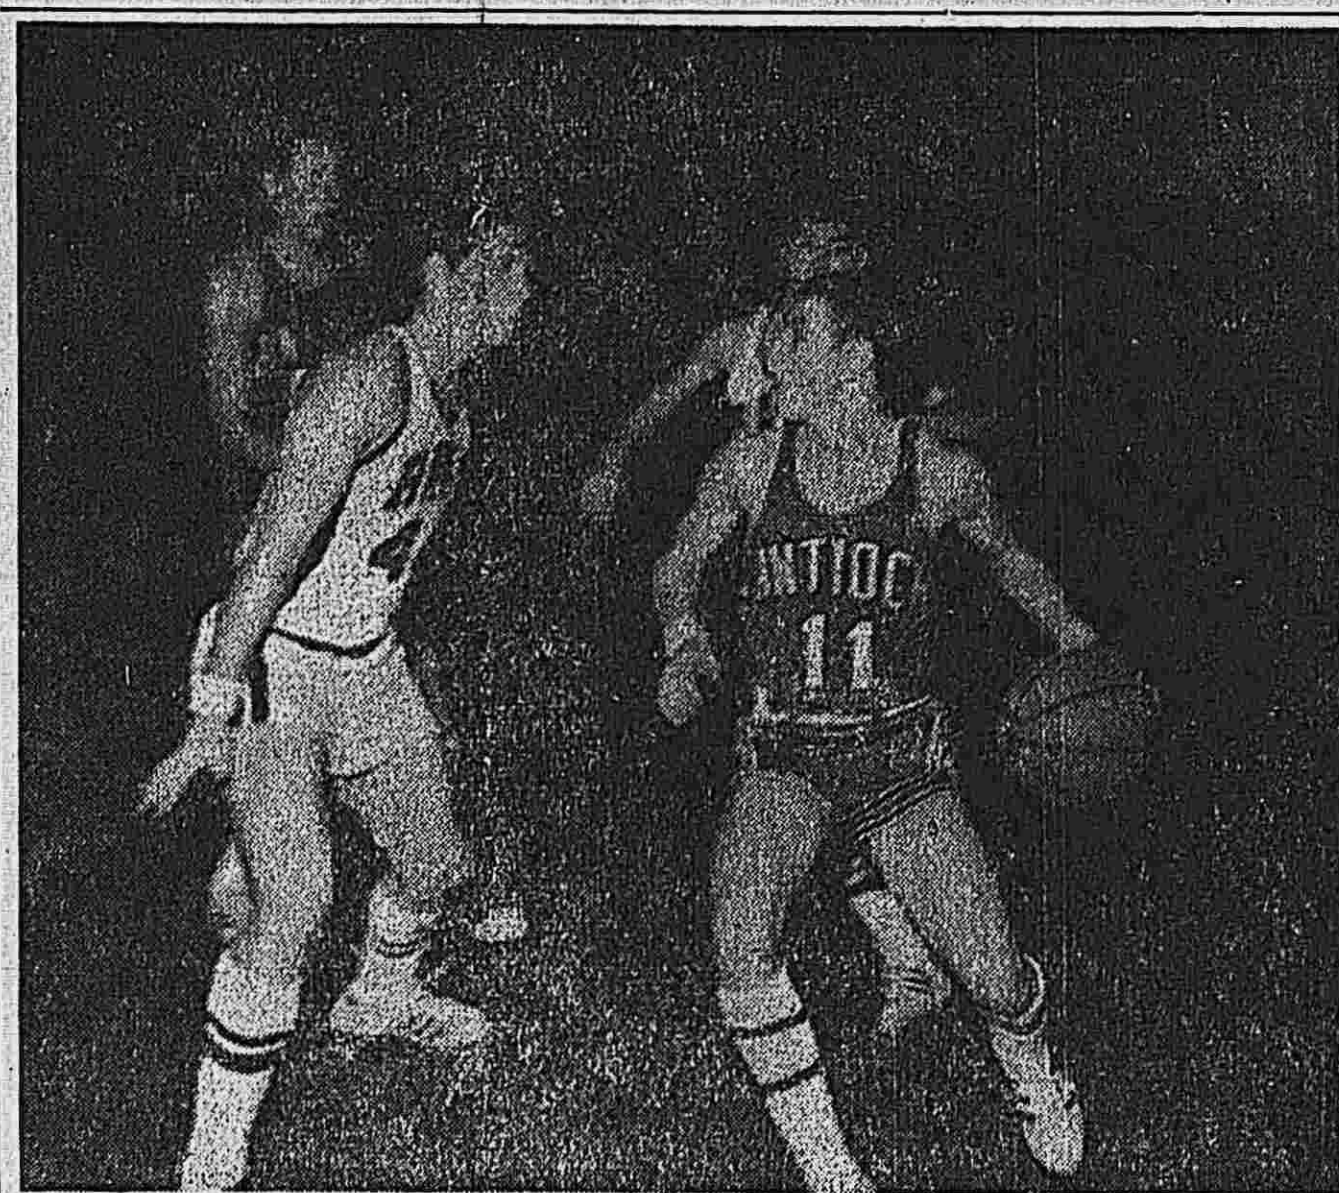

These diseases are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this country.

He said a new committee has been created—legislative. "You'll be hearing more from this group in the future," he said.

"Our goal is to build a good community, the best in the Lake County area," Woods added. "I believe there should be more

Grass Lake School District Complies With Free Lunch Law

The monthly meeting of the Grass Lake District 36 School Board was held on Tuesday, Jan. 12. Supt. William Hart reported that the school has completed its compliance with Public Law 91-248 which is the free or reduced priced lunch program at the school.

Discussion was held regarding the Scout House facility at the school. Recommendations were made to consider the architects' requirements regarding windows, doors, and fire exits.

A report was also submitted on the school buses as a result of the recent inspection. All buses were passed, but it will be necessary to make some adjustments to meet the state inspection standards on one of the buses.

Supt. Hart gave a report from the Jan. meeting of school administrators regarding State Aid Payments to Dual and Unit Districts in Illinois. Representatives from Lake County met in Springfield Saturday.

The recent electrical wiring work to the kitchen area has been completed and serving the facilities very well. A few minor adjustments and changes were noted in the original work and have been looked into.

The Special Education Master Plan was introduced. In context its goal is to maintain learning disability students in the general classroom by use of itinerant-resource teachers. After considering the basis it is hoped to begin this program in the 1971-72 school year. Supt. Hart said the school will continue to contract a social worker for the 1971-72 school year on a 1/4-day basis.

Township Assn. To Meet January 21

The January meeting of the Lake County Township Officials Association will be held at the Brae Loch Country Club on Route 45, north of Rte. 120, in Grayslake, on Thursday, January 21st at 8 p.m.

Annexation Fees Fixed By Trustees

An ordinance was adopted Monday night by the Antioch Village Board establishing annexation fees.

In the measures prepared by Village Attorney Edward Jacobs on recommendation of the sewer and water committee headed by Vern L. Barnstable, it provides for a fee of $500 per acre and $125 per lot.

The ordinance establishing fees on annexation was the outgrowth of a suggestion by Village Attorney Jacobs to tighten the policy on new annexations.

Jacobs pointed out that the sewage disposal plant is nearing capacity and that a study should be made about the policy.

The ordinance will become effective after its publication.

The Standard Oil Co. filed a petition, requesting that its property at the northwest corner of Main Street and North Avenue be annexed to the village.

No action was taken on the issue until other agencies such as the Antioch Fire District, and the Antioch Township Library Board has been notified.

Marilyn Sterbenz, village clerk, was authorized to write the bonding company to determine how much bonding power the village has.

The information is required before an application can be filed for a federal grant to improve or expand the sewage plant facilities.

The trustees approved the purchase of 500 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose at a cost of $75 for the fire department at the request of Robert Wilton, chairman of the fire department committee.

Fire Chief Mapleton presented his annual fire report, showing there were 38 fires last year, causing damages totaling $14,475.

The report showed that there were five house fires, six in cars, seven in commercial structures, three grass fires, seven miscellaneous and one garage.

There were five incidents of mutual aid or assisting other communities, and four calls that were false.

In the Antioch fire district, there were 91 fire calls including 16 for homes; 14 for cars; six commercial; 35 grass fires; three barns; two garages, and 15 miscellaneous.

Antioch High To Present Annual Pops Concert Jan. 26

This coming Tuesday, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m. the Antioch High School Fine Arts Department will present its annual Pops Concert, featuring the Swing Choir under the direction of Ralph Brooke. This fine group will be giving a selection of six numbers, some of which are Bridge Over Troubled Water, by Simon and Garfunkle, and Let the Sunshine In, by Galt MacDermot.

presenting the bright new sounds of modern jazz.

The term LAB means just what it does in science—a place to experiment—to try out new ideas—and in our case in the context of Jazz. Hopefully it will be a happy mixture of Jazz, Big Band and Contemporary sounds.

The last portion of the program will be unique because it will be a composite of arrangements blended together as one excursion. Here will be some "free" jazz sections as well as up-to-date compositions. The selections have been done by Chicago, Don Ellis, Blood-Sweat & Tears, Miles Davis, Sly Stone, and Woody Herman.

The concept is one of the New York jazz scene to incorporate many rhythms and moods into a unit with the intent that in the midst of performance everyone will enjoy some fragment of it—not necessarily the whole unit.

Some portions of jazz concerts are not written; although background material may stay the same, new music will be conceived Tuesday night. This instant creation is one of the goals of jazz.

In addition to the "A" jazz lab, the "B" jazz lab group will also perform a few numbers, including the popular "Sunny" as played by Stan Kenton and "Make Me Smile" as done by Chicago.

A Clean Windshield

We offer our support to a suggestion by Police Chief Jack Davis that a safety hazard occurs when drivers habitually clean only enough snow from their windshields to see straight ahead.

We feel as Chief Davis does that motorists should clean all the snow and ice from their vehicles before starting out.

On slippery pavement or during the poor visibility of a snow storm, obstructed vision out of either back or side windows may cause a serious accident.

Always scrape all windows thoroughly. Use a long handled brush to remove snow from the roof and hood of your car. This will prevent snow particles from blowing on windows while the car is in motion.

Windshield wipers should be checked frequently during winter for cracking and general wear, said the chief. They can be replaced inexpensively and could save serious trouble later.

In cold weather windshield washers should be filled with an anti-freeze solution to prevent ice damage to windows.

In temperatures down to 10 degrees above zero, the mixture is one part solution to five parts water; for temperature below zero, the mixture may be either one to two-and-one-half or one to two.

A Good Record

President Nixon recently asked the National Alliance of Businessmen to accept a three-year extension of its charter, which is scheduled to expire this June.

Since it was established, a little more than two and one-half years ago, the NAB has been widely acclaimed for its record in creating jobs for the so-called unemployables.

Newly hired workers under the program have totalled around 536,000. Nearly 24,000 companies across the nation have participated in the program, and 8,000 top people from business and industry have been loaned to NAB.

Over a quarter of a million men and women are now on jobs made possible through the NAB, according to its chairman, Lynn Townsend, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Chrysler Corp. In the words of Mr. Townsend: "NAB hasn't worked any miracles. But it is doing a thorough, professional job of helping to solve a critical social problem. It has helped to find work for thousands of men and women who have never before held meaningful jobs."

Admittedly, under today's economic conditions, the task is becoming more difficult. These same conditions make success of the program more imperative.

Federal Budget Control

Once again we have seen the vast amount of attention given to the President's budget message by the nation's press. Editorials and feature articles dissect it, but soon the 500-odd-page budget document will gather dust on the shelves of libraries.

Why? The complicated appropriation bills in Congress fragment the budget requests and make it almost impossible, even for experienced members of Congress, to have any idea of the impact of each bill on the overall fiscal state of the nation.

The proposal to reform the appropriations process by having Congress consider all appropriations in two bills (one dealing with defense and national security and the other with all other federal requirements) makes real sense.

Grouping the appropriation bills into two categories would help bring home to Congress and the public the need to establish priorities.

Deadline Near On New Auto Plates

The deadline for displaying 1971 license plates on the vehicles is only five weeks away, Secretary of State John W. Lewis today warned Illinois motorists.

The new plates must be mounted on the vehicles, not merely applied for, by midnight Monday, Feb. 15, Secretary Lewis said.

Those motorists who plan to apply for their plates by mail should do so within the next two weeks in order to allow sufficient time for processing applications and delivery of plates in time for the deadline, he advised. Their applications should be in the Secretary of State's office no later than January 25. License plates are third class mail and require more time for delivery than first class mail.

Registration at present has almost reached the two million mark, less than half the estimated total that should be registered by Feb. 15. Registration at that time is expected to be about 4.3 million, and the entire year, about 4.9 million.

The plates may be purchased over the counter at two Secretary of State's office outlets in Springfield and three in Chicago, and also at 91 banks throughout the state, Lewis said.

Plates may be purchased locally at the State Bank of Antioch.

State's Future In Hands Of Assembly

Reapportionment, implementing the new state constitution, improvement of the welfare system, and further tax reform were cited as major subjects for legislation by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in his "state of the state" message to the 77th General Assembly Jan. 6.

Concerning implementation of the constitution, Ogilvie told legislators: "The care and statesmanship you bring to this task could be as important as the language of the constitution."

$5 Million Apartment

tion," said Village Mayor Raymond Toft. "There were figures and facts that were not presented to the Zoning Board at its hearing."

J. Irving Walsh proposed that the issue be channeled back to the Zoning Board of Appeals for reconsideration. The motion was adopted 6 to 0. Meeting with Zoning Board of Appeals will be the Planning Commission and the Industrial Board.

The project developers had hoped to start construction on the first phase of the apartment complex in the spring.

Toft had previously commented that he favored the plan despite the fact industrial zoning land would be used. He pointed out the need for housing before industry comes into a community.

LaPlant, speaking before the board, said that he has had the acreage on the industrial selling block for 10 years and has had no one interested despite extensive advertising with various industrial development groups.

"This is the best offer I have had in 10 years," he said, "and I want to sell."

He said industry will come into Antioch if the village will buy the property and promise to provide free sewer and water facilities for 10 years.

"Industry wants housing for its key personnel," he said, "before it decides on settling in a community."

LaPlant said the development will provide the village with more revenue in real estate and sales taxes.

Mrs. Marilyn Sterbenz, village clerk, is attempting to arrange a date for a meeting of the Planning Commission, the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Industrial Board.

The Zoning Board of Appeals granted a change in zoning from single family to multiple family on the petition of LaPlant and Kenneth A. Mazzuca, the developer, on a site on Rte. 83.

The change in zoning will enable Mazzuca to build two structures each containing 12 apartments.

The revision was recommended by the Zoning Board of Appeals after a public hearing held Jan. 11. The vote was 5 to 0 with one absentee.

He said success in the "delicate task" of legislative reapportionment "will demand fairness, pragmatism and, above all, a firm determination to avoid the sort of deadlock that would threaten the chances for passage of every vital measure before this assembly."

Referring to public welfare costs, Ogilvie asked legislators to support a federal revenue sharing program "to forestall fiscal collapse." The governor cited the importance of completing tax reform begun two years ago, noting that the new constitution makes certain classifications and exemptions possible and that the lawmakers "must find a way to replace lost revenues responsibly and equitably."

Ogilvie said he would submit legislative proposals on health care, transportation, drug abuse, law reform and other vital issues. He said they would require legislators to "place the future of Illinois and the welfare of its people ahead of narrow factional advantage." He continued:

"I intend to recommend to this assembly measures requiring full disclosure of income and assets by all public officials—as well as stricter rules of ethics."

Referring to the assembly's political lineup, he said: "The challenge transcends partisanship. And no party, no faction, no individual can escape accountability in the months ahead."

Gov. Ogilvie has named Arthur R. Swanson of Chicago, whose eight years in the Illinois Senate terminated Jan. 6, as his chief staff liaison with the General Assembly. Noting that Swanson "enjoys the confidence of both his legislative colleagues and members of the administration," the governor said he expected him to "play an important role in the development of workable solutions to Illinois' problems and in the enactment of those solutions into law."

As chairman of the municipal corporations committee, Sen. Swanson led extensive investigations into Chicago's city building department, the Metropolitan Sanitary district of Chicago, improper assessment procedures, and refuse disposal problems. He sponsored or cosponsored legislation establishing drug abuse programs, tax exemptions for blind veterans, highway beautification standards, and compensation to families of firemen and policemen killed in line of duty.

All 685 slaughtering and processing plants in Illinois have been certified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Agriculture Director Gordon L. Ropp. The detailed federal survey of facilities, equipment, operational procedures, sanitation and inspection activities in Illinois plants was completed in November.

Ropp explained that federal certification enables an establishment to have USDA grading of meats, permitting it to bid on volume sales to state and federal institutions. Ropp added that more than 30 states are yet to be certified.

Noting that thickening ice on Illinois lakes and streams will be luring hardy souls out for ice fishing, Al Lopinot, the conservation department's chief fishery biologist, offered these suggestions:

—Holes in the ice must be no more than 12 inches in diameter.

—A fisherman may have two poles and lines at one time with no more than two hooks per line. Each treble hook counts as a single hook.

—A fisherman must attend his ice fishing devices at all times. Only portable shelters will be allowed on the ice and after March 1, shelters must be removed after each day's fishing.

—Illinois fishing licenses expire on Jan. 31.

Lopinot warned that a minimum of four inches of ice is recommended before fishermen move onto a lake in large numbers. He said in 30 and 40 degree temperatures the ice should be at least five inches thick and in 40 and 50 degree temperatures it should be 12 inches thick.

Free copies of a booklet listing 44 lakes and fish caught in them during the ice fishing season are available from the Division of Fisheries, State Office Building, 400 S. Spring St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Contractors To Seat New Officers

Installation of new officers highlighted the meeting of the Plumbing & Heating Contractors Assn. of Lake and McHenry Counties at Brae Loch Country Club, Grayslake, last Thursday evening.

Taking over as president of the organization was David Buck, of D/Bee Plumbing & Heating Co., of Mundelein, who was elected in November to succeed L. E. (Ozzie) Koetz, of Koetz & Barton, Zion.

Special guest speaker William Maxey, recently appointed Building Commissioner for the County of Lake, installed the new officers.

Seated along with Buck were vice presidents Greg Streb, of Sherman Plumbing & Heating Co., Crystal Lake, and Edward Gothann, of Carol Plumbing, Round Lake; treasurer Michael Jaworsky, of Jaworco Inc., Fox River Grove, and secretary S. Jack Shull, of Shull Plumbing, Libertyville.

Buck's first official act was the appointment of committees, followed by an outline of his programs for the coming year.

Delegates and alternate delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Association of Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors slated for Springfield Jan. 28, 29, and 30 were appointed at the meeting.

Antioch Man Joins WKRS

Veteran Antioch newsmen Joe Hunley joins the WKRS radio news staff beginning Monday Jan. 18.

Hunley has been News Director of WZBN, in Zion, for slightly over three years, and before that was a member of the program staff at WMCW, Harvard.

The hiring of Hunley brings the WKRS news department to six in number.

WKRS News Director Dick Tuchscherer said Hunley would be used in general assignments, but that he would be especially valuable in covering news of Antioch where he resides, and in Zion where he has centered his news activities in the past.

Hunley will also be assigned the role of anchor-man during certain WKRS news programming.

Before entering radio Hunley was Lake County Field Representative of the American Red Cross, and before coming to Lake County was an instructor of speech and drama at Columbia College, Chicago.

He played professional stock in New England, Colorado, and Illinois and in U.S. Army shows in the United States and Europe.

A past president of the Palette, Masque and Lyre Theatre group in Antioch, he is currently a member of the PM&L board of directors. Hunley is a graduate of the Goodman Memorial Theatre of the Art Institute of Chicago with a B.F.A. degree in directing. His wife Valarie, also a graduate of Goodman Theatre, has been active on stage and television and appeared in the motion picture "The Adventures of Mr. Fumble Brain."

The Hunleys have four children, Heather 18, Pamela 15, Robin 12 and Bob 9. They raise shetland ponies on their Antioch Township farm.

Winter Adds To Hazard Of Vehicular Driving

The complex task of driving is made even more so by the unpredictable and unfamiliar conditions brought on by winter, says the Lake County Safety Commission.

Ice, snow, cold, storms, and poor visibility all combine to make the driver's job demanding and painstaking. Motorists, lulled by the ease of modern driving, especially fail to adjust their driving to meet early winter's changing conditions of roadway and visibility.

The Commission offers this advice for driving in winter:

Reduce speed. Speed must be slower to drive safely on ice and snow than on dry pavement. Less tire traction and poor visibility due to snow and ice glare make this imperative.

Keep your vehicle in good mechanical condition. Check brake equalization to keep the car from pulling to one side when braked. Windshield wipers should have adequate arm tension and worn blades should be replaced.

For greater traction and better response in steering and braking on ice-covered surfaces, use studded tires on all four wheels where legal. Tire chains are recommended for use in extreme snow and ice conditions. Snow tires are for use on snow-covered surfaces and are not effective on ice.

Keep a greater than usual distance between you and the car in front to allow for increased stopping distance on ice and snow. Anticipate stops and turns and slow down gradually.

If you skid, don't panic and slam on the brakes. Take your foot off the gas. Pump the brakes. Steer in the direction of the skid, the direction in which the rear wheels are sliding.

Make sure that you have adequate vision and that other drivers can see you. Completely free all windows of ice and snow before driving. Keep lights, both front and rear, free of snow build-up. Use wipers and washers (with an anti-freeze solution) often to rid the windshield of road spatter from slush and salted wet roads.

Never start or run a car in a closed space. Carbon-monoxide build-up in a closed garage can be fatal.

Winter driving presents many hazards. Most of them can be lessened by reducing speed and using a little extra caution and common sense—good rules for driving in any weather, reminds the Safety Commission.

If Cold, Try Heating Windows

If your thermostat indicates that your house is warm enough but you still feel chilly and uncomfortable, maybe your heat distributors are located in the wrong places, suggests the Chicago Better Heating-Cooling Council.

Although comfort is a suggestive feeling and may vary from person to person, there are certain criteria which are accepted as standards of comfort. For instance, people are most comfortable when there is a minimum difference in temperature between the floor and the ceiling. Tests conducted at the University of Illinois demonstrate that hydronic (modern hot water) baseboard heating panels, when installed on all outside walls, especially under windows, are particularly effective in reducing temperature differences between floors and ceilings. Moreover, the baseboard panels act as a barrier against the cold and drafts when installed on the perimeter of the house.

Another important point to remember is to locate all thermostats away from direct contact with heat, cold and sunlight. This permits them to record only the temperature in the room and nothing else.

Alcoholism Afflicts 14,000 In Lake County

Picture the party. A mellow gathering of people. Sitting, standing and talking. Laughing. All of them are taking drugs, getting high on their favorite kind. No one is uptight about taking drugs, in fact, the host and hostess are encouraging their guests to use them.

A feeling of well-being settles over the group. Most everyone feels happy, their conversation inhibitions broken down. A few people have mild bad trips. Some withdraw into themselves, some shout loudly and incoherently.

These could be hippies or young people smoking marijuana. They are not. They are a group of middle aged adults. The drug is alcohol, and every 13th person at the party is an alcoholic.

Alcohol is one of the oldest drugs known to man. When taken in excess, it can cause dangerous effects. When taken in combination with other drugs, such as amphetamines or barbiturates, it can kill.

Many people have forgotten that alcohol is a drug, and that the problem of alcoholism and the alcohol addict—the alcoholic—is still with us. Dr. Roger Egeberg, Assistant Secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs for Health Education and Welfare, described alcoholism as the nation's number one health problem, affecting 6.5 million Americans. A recent survey conducted by researchers at George Washington University indicated that there may be as many as nine million alcoholics in the U. S. Alcoholism strikes every 13th American.

Concern for alcoholism is nowhere near as great today as the concern for drug addiction and abuse, nor does the problem of alcoholism receive more than a fraction as much Federal funding as cancer, heart disease and mental illness. Yet alcoholism ranks as a serious health problem.

"The damage that alcoholism and the alcoholic do to business is phenomenal," said Dr. Raphael M. Adelman, President of the Lake County Council on Alcoholism. "Industry estimates that over 6 billion dollars is lost every year due to alcoholism. This includes absenteeism, equipment damage, faulty decisions and accidents. The damage done to the families and friends of the alcoholic is immeasurable."

If the problem of alcoholism is so widespread and does so much damage, then why isn't more done about it?

"Because most people think alcoholism has been controlled or contained," said Dr. Adelman. "You don't hear about alcoholism today in the same way you hear about drug addiction. And too, many people still have many misconceptions about alcoholism."

For instance, people still think the alcoholic can control his drinking by will power, when that thesis was clinically disproven many years ago. Many people still think that most alcoholics are bums on skid row; they think that their circle of friends couldn't possibly include an alcoholic. Actually, less than 5 per cent of the alcoholic population is on skid row. Many people still believe that rather than being a sickness, a disease, that alcoholism is merely a weakness and the result of a lack of personal discipline. And most people tend to joke and laugh at a friend or relative who "drinks too much." Drinking too much is sometimes looked upon as almost an attribute or a laughable trait—but rarely with deep concern.

"All of these attitudes have and still are greatly impeding any progress that might be made against the disease. It is sad that in this day and age, many families stricken by alcoholism would rather hide the fact than get help for the alcoholic. They are more ashamed than concerned. Can you imagine being ashamed that your husband or wife, mother or father had a heart disease? This is the problem we are up against in combating shifting people's attitudes is perhaps tougher than combating the disease itself," Dr. Adelman said.

He went on to point out that alcoholism remains in the same attitudinal framework that mental illness and venereal disease escaped from years ago. "Twenty or even 15 years ago, anyone stricken with mental illness was likely to be hidden away. His family was embarrassed about the disease and preferred not to discuss it, especially in public. Anyone contracting venereal disease was even worse off. This person could face expulsion from his family rather than help. The same thing used to be true about unwed mothers. Their predicament was more a source of shame than concern," Dr. Adelman said.

"People have now become more enlightened. Mental illness, venereal disease and unwanted pregnancy are now treated immediately, and the person afflicted is usually treated with compassion and understanding rather than scorn and shame. Unfortunately, attitudes toward alcoholism have changed very little. People have forgotten that alcohol is a drug, and that with any drug, there is addiction. Addiction cannot be controlled by scorn and shame," Dr. Adelman continued.

"The most crucial step to be taken in combatting alcoholism," he said, "is to discover and treat the disease early. Warning signals of alcoholism include: Difficulty to get along with when drinking... drinks 'because he is depressed'... drinks to 'calm his nerves'... drinks until he is 'dead drunk' at times... can't remember parts of some drinking episodes... hides liquor... lies about his drinking... neglects to eat when he is drinking... neglects his family when he is drinking."

"The Lake County Council on Alcoholism can help the alcoholic, his family and friends," Dr. Adelman said.

Law Signed To Aid Children of POW's

President Nixon has signed into law new education benefits for wives and children of prisoners of war, and for servicemen who have served 181 days of active duty rather than two years as was previously required.

The new benefits became effective Dec. 24, 1970, according to Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson.

The reduction in the active duty requirement to 181 days also applies to the eligibility of servicemen for GI loan guarantee benefits, Johnson said. This broadened eligibility makes it possible for men and women to use their GI Bill benefits sooner while still in military service, Johnson explained.

Under the new law, the wives and children of those members of the Armed Forces on active duty who have been listed for more than 90 days as missing in action, captured, "or forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power," are eligible for educational benefits.

For apprenticeship and on-the-job training courses under the GI Bill, servicemen are required to take 120 hours of training per month to receive full training allowance, and a lesser number of hours result in a proportionate reduction in the allowance.

Full-time training, Johnson explained, contemplated a work week of at least 30 hours unless collective bargaining has established a lesser standard for a work week.

Antioch Teacher Weds Mexico City Businessman

A romance that began "south of the border" was culminated in marriage Jan. 2 for Carlos Gutierrez Orozco of Mexico City and Marie Regina Jasien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jasien of Antioch.

The couple exchanged rings at a nuptial mass at which the Rev. Alfred Hnederson, pastor of St. Peter's Church, was the celebrant.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The new Mrs. Orozco chose a gown of ivory organza over tulle, and styled with an illusion neckline and long illusion bishop sleeves accented by appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearl beading.

Its simulated A-line bodice and skirt was accented by a double A-line panel of matching lace, with a detachable waltz train with applied motifs of matching lace.

She wore a chapel length mantilla of matching ivory edged in a deep bodice of matching Alencon lace and applied motifs.

Mexican traditions were observed in the ceremony. "Lozo" wax flower and crystal form a double leafed lozo which was placed on the shoulders of the couple symbolizing the bonds of ceremony. The Lozo was carried into the church by Mrs. Leslie Miller before the ceremony.

"Las Aras"—13 gold coins carried into the church by Michael Whitehead were given to the bride by the bridegroom immediately after the marriage had been performed.

It symbolized the bridegroom's responsibility for her support in the future.

Mrs. Orozco was attended by Irene Guthrie as a maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Kathy Owieck, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Robert Lenczewski, Mrs. Gloria Baumgartner, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Gordon Duncan.

They wore floor length dresses of red panne velvet designed and created by Mrs. Miller. They carried white and yellow mums and red carnations.

Mrs. Orozco is a graduate of Bradley University and is doing graduate work at the University of Mexico City. Her husband is a graduate of Mexico City Institute of Technology and is in business in Mexico City, Guadalajara, and Morelia.

A reception was held in the Millionaire's Club in Niles.

The couple visited San Antonio, Texas, where friends of the bride held a small reception in their honor. The couple then left for a honeymoon in Acapulco.

The newlyweds are expected some time this month to return to Mexico City where the bridegroom's family is planning a reception.

It Takes Nerve To Dress Chic

It takes nerve, not money, to dress with chic. The daring to wear something different, an as yet untied combination of clothes and accessories, a new shade of lipstick or navy blue mascara—these are the little touches that mark the difference between the trendsetter and the follower.

Walker Raps Chicago For Syndicate Buys

Dan Walker, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, Tuesday criticized the city of Chicago for doing business with firms having crime syndicate connections.

The press has disclosed that the city paid 3.3 million dollars to two firms for curb and gutter repair work in 1970. Either an individual connected with one of the firms, or the firm itself previously had been cited by the Chicago Crime commission in its reports "Spotlights on Organized Crime." Walker published the reports as president of the Chicago Crime commission.

Only the city of Chicago failed to take similar steps, Walker said at the time.

After Walker's statement was released, City Purchasing Agent dress before the 3rd annual Business Leaders Conference on Crime and Delinquency, Walker urged the city to stop doing business with syndicate connected firms.

At the time, Walker pointed out that following the issuance of "Spotlights," Gov. Ogilvie issued an executive order barring the state from doing business with firms cited in Spotlights. The county board of commissioners passed a similar resolution.

Walker also recalled that in his statement of candidacy on November 18, he said:

"We will construct a political system that will not tolerate persistent ties to organized crime..."

Defense Key To Sequoits Win Over Grayslake Quintet

(By the Sixth Man)
It's often said that a team's best offense is a good defense. The Antioch Sequoits again proved themselves to be the masters of defense as our team overran Grayslake and Wauconda.

The big game came on Friday as Antioch stopped Grayslake. Grayslake has three great offensive stars in Wilkins, Stull and Stickle.

I felt that Stull didn't show any great offensive ability throughout the game. Stickle however, played a fine game as he led Grayslake in offense. The big man for Grayslake, Tom Wilkins, was held to a lone free throw in the game.

This weekend I felt two fine ball players, Keith Bolton on offense and Tom Martin on defense deserve a lot of credit. Keith found the basket in the Grayslake game as he posted 30 points.

Keith also boarded aggressively in both games. Tom Martin, the other Antioch mainstay, held Tom Wilkins the Northwest Suburban league leader in the offensive column to one point. Tom Martin also did some fine work on the boards as well as some clutch points in the late stages of the ball game.

In the Grayslake game Steve Bentel helped break the game wide open as he stole the ball numerous times.

I also feel that Tim Mieuire and Pat Michalak both played steady games. I'm very pleased to point out how Tim Mieuire has progressed from a sophomore guard to a poised varsity athlete. Pat still has a lot to learn but he does have a future in the high post position. Pat is also valuable because he can play forward for the Sequoits.

These two wins over Wauconda and Grayslake not only boost our morale but retain Antioch in the second slot behind Grant.

All in all the showdown date between Grant and Antioch is coming to a climax. The prize—a possible conference championship.

Wrestlers Still In Race For Title

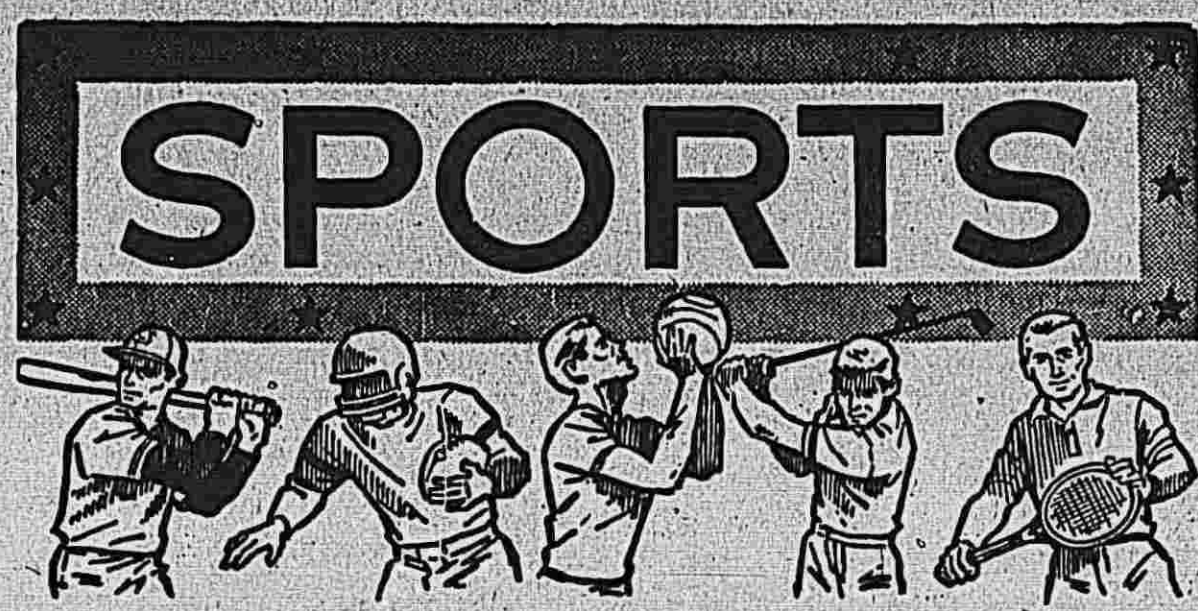

Last Friday, the freshman wrestlers kept their conference championship hopes alive with a 33-18 victory over Grayslake Rams.

Standouts for the Sequoits were Dirk Dietz, John Meyer, Brad Partlow, Travis Braden, and Beese. Alan Westman was leading in his match when an elbow injury forced him out of action.

The following afternoon, the Sequoits traveled to Barrington High School. It was a frustrating afternoon for the Antioch team. The Sequoits held a lead of 14-13 through the first seven matches. From the eighth match on, it was all Barrington. Antioch managed only one more victory from that point on—a pin by Bill Beese at 167 pounds. The Sequoits won the battle of statistics by gaining 8 take downs while allowing Barrington only 2.

Team leaders with individual records to date are: John Meyer (7-0), Bill Beese (6-1), Travis Braden (7-2), Dirk Dietz (6-2), and Steve Solomon (6-3).

The next matches are against Warren on Friday, Jan. 22, at 6:45 p.m. in Antioch; and Saturday, Jan. 23 at Holy Cross at 10 a.m.

Experts Will Speak At Conservation Dinner

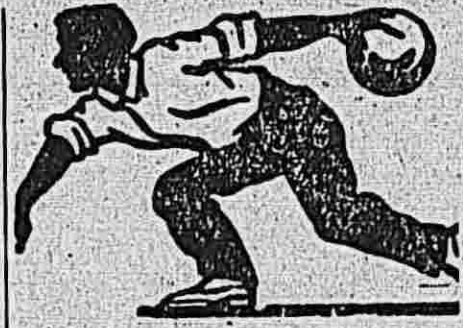

A Conservation dinner, and panel of conservation experts is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 6, at the Farm Bureau, Routes 45 and 120 in Grayslake.

This was announced by Russell Gwaltney, Chairman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District. The buffet dinner, consisting of beef, turkey, and ham, will be served at 6:30 p.m. The donation is $4.25, and tickets can be secured from the Soil Conservation Service Office in Lake Zurich (438-6319), the A.S.C.S. Office in Grayslake (BA 3-4716), or any of the Directors.

The tremendous interest in wildlife, tree planting, and fish ponds in Lake County has prompted the directors to assemble a panel of experts on these conservation practices.

These include: Donald Adams, office manager of A.S.C.S. in Grayslake, who will explain government participation in conservation practices; Lee H. Bridgman, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, who will explain the service available through the Soil Conservation Service; Gregg Tichacek, Fisheries Biologist with the Illinois Department of Conservation, who will speak on fish stocking, ponds, and aquatic weed control.

Sophomores Split In 4 Contests

The Antioch Sophomore basketball team won two games and lost two games in the last two weeks.

On January 8 the Sophs beat Lake Forest 46-37. The game was well played and there was much evidence of team play. Antioch shot a good 49% from the field. Glen Amundsen and Mark Andrews controlled the boards, pulling down 11 and 13 rebounds respectively.

Box Score:

	G	FT	TP
Amundsen	1	1	3
Andrews	5	3	13
Chapman	7	4	18
Popp	2	0	4
Schroeder	1	0	2
Toman	1	4	6

On Saturday, Jan. 9, the Junior Sequoits took on a very good North Chicago team and lost 54-44. Despite the score, Antioch played a good game, outpointing the Warhawks 28-22 in the second half. Overall the Sequoits shot a hot 53% on 19 baskets in 36 attempts.

Box Score:

	G	FT	TP
Amundsen	1	0	2

Friday, Jan. 15 saw the Sophomores lose only their second conference game as they were upset by Grayslake 41-39. The Sequoits jumped off to a quick lead and led by 14 points at one time.

After the early going, however, the team began to play sloppy, careless ball. Frequent turnovers hurt the team and eventually cost them the game.

It was a disappointing loss, but perhaps it will spur the team on to better play.

Box Score:

	G	FT	TP
Amundsen	1	1	3
Andrews	2	0	4
Chapman	6	1	13
Popp	5	1	11
Schroeder	2	1	5
Toman	1	1	3

The Sequoits got a split for the weekend when they beat Wauconda Saturday. The score was 51-32. Team play again played an important role in the victory.

In contrast to the Grayslake game, Antioch had only 8 turnovers against the Bulldogs.

Glen Amundsen led the rebounders with 10 while Shayne Schroeder had 6 assists.

The team record is now 5-2 in conference play.

Box Score:

"DON'T TREAD ON ME"

From the beginning of the United States and long after, the security of the nation and of the individual depended upon rifles and handguns that held predators, both human and animal, at bay. Every schoolchild knows, or should know, the part that the skill of American riflemen have played in our history from the Battle of Bunker Hill to the jungles of Vietnam.

The extent to which a nation may have to depend upon citizen possession of firearms can be seen in Israel. Mr. Jac Weller, honorary curator of the West Point Museum, and author of several books on military history, has written of the current travails of Israel, which he calls "A Nation of Armed Citizens." He says, "... it's difficult in Israel today to distinguish between the military apparatus and the civilians-in-arms." In some areas of Israel, every individual must carry his personal weapon with him at all times. Almost every single man and many of the women in Israel can fire one weapon adequately. Mr. Weller witnessed a school picnic at which teachers carried submachine guns, and the boys had rifles close by as they munched their lunches.

It is difficult for a U. S. citizen to believe that any nation could be reduced to such extremities. But, as Mr. Weller concludes, although heavily outnumbered by hostile Arabs, "... the Israelis are likely to survive because a nation in arms is hard to destroy." Even in this nuclear age, the right of firearm ownership by responsible citizens—and that means the great body of Ameri-

HEADED FOR A SHOWDOWN

All sorts of predictions have been made concerning the decade of the 1970's. Most of them have one thing in common. They foresee growth. Nineteen hundred and seventy, however, may turn out to be a year that will be looked back upon mainly as a period in which broad economic planning of government and the managed economy began their final approach to a day of reckoning as inflation maintained its deadly course.

And so we enter in the second year of the 70's, the ancient conflict between statism, freedom and the individual seems to be headed toward a crucial showdown. The recession-inflation phenomenon of 1970 could carry a greater portent for the future than possibly any other event during the year. It irrevocably brought recognition of the failure of government as a planner and manager a step closer—or a year closer.—Industrial News Review
